Miss Parthenia Freeman became Mrs. How-ard E. Swanson.

This was all very unique and pretty in its way, but it was just the beginning. It happened about a year ago.

The young married folk went to live on the old Freeman homestead. Early yester-day Mrs. Walter J. Swanson surprised her husband by presenting him with three bright and healthy girls.

One hour later Mrs. Howard E. Swanson also surprised her husband, when he learned that she had given birth to three bouncing boys.

American Negroes Employed to Teach the Natives.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.-Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute for negroes, announced to-day that officials of the German Government had closed a contract with his school to furnish students to introduce cotton raising among the natives in the German colony on the west coast of Africa.

On November 3, a party of students, equipped with cotten plows, gins, wagens and carpentary tools, will sail from New York for the new fields. The party will be under the leadership of J. N. Calloway.

It is a little over five years since Samuel L. Clemens left his native land, inspired by a motive to which the history of literature calinot show a purallel. Six years ago the publishing firm of Charles L. Webster & Co., of which Mr. Clemens was the financial backer, failed, owing a little over $200. At the time it was known that the author was heavily involved, and that he would practically have to "begin life over parity". again," as the saying goes, but what was not even suspected was that Mr. Clemens had assumed res, ensibility for all the firm's

And now this brave author has returned not only with debts paid not only with the subline consciousness that he has required a self-imposed meral obligation, but with the confortment, and it may be the pride. that such are the present unincumbered royalties from his books that if he were nevroyalties from his tooks that it is well to put pen to paper again, or never again stand upon the lectere platform, he could pass the rest of his life far removed from the strain of affairs and the marty-dom of financial distress,

The Jen name "Mark Twain," by which Mr. Samuel L. Clemens is better known than that of his christening, is responsible for this story which the great humorist and author tells about himself.

It seems that a little New Zealand girl wrote him that her father had said that his proper name was Chemens, but that she insisted that it was Mark Twain. The rea-son she knew better than her father was because Clemens was the name of the mitwho sold patent medicine. She liked the name of Mark-why, Mark Anthony was in the Bible, Mr. Clemens replied to his little correspondent that he was glad to hear from her, and as Mark Anthony had got into the Bible, "I am not without hopes myself."

Mr. Kipling seems to have no Parliamentary ambition, but a provincial paper has nominated him for Town Councilor, apparently on the ground that he keeps a meter carriage, and could thus go to the meetings of the Council in state, writes W. L. Alden from London. If the possession of a motor carriage qualifies a man for holding the office of Town Councilor, perhaps a man would be qualified to represent a constitu-ency in Parliament on the ground that he cwned a cause or a ten-tonner. Perhaps Mr. Jerome will ask to be elected because be ewns a boat in which "Three Men" once made a memorable cruise.

"Famous American Belles of the Nino teenth Century." from the pen of Virginia Tatnall Peacock, will shortly be issued by the Lippincotts. There will be twenty full-page illustrations in the book, in addition to a frontispiece in colors, and it will in-clude mention of all the most famous belies of the different sections of our country dur-ing each decade of the century.

Charles Scribner's Sons are publishing Barrie's "Tommy and Grizel," the advanced demand for which has called for the print-ing of $2.000 copies before publication; Quiller-Couch's "Old Fires and Profitable Ghosts," Paul Bourget's collection of tales called "Domestic Dramas," translated by William Marchant, and Alexander Black's "The Girl and the Guardsman."

One of the most interesting political articles that has appeared thus far in the cam-paign is contributed to the current issue of Collier's Weekly by ex-Governor William J. Stone of Missouri, the vice chairman of the National Democratic Committee. Mr. Stone writes on "Democracy vs. Imperialism."

J M. Barrie's great serial, "Tommy and Grizel," reaches a conclusion in the No-vember Scribner's with a most unexpected situation. The wonderful skill with which Tommy has been portrayed commands the greatest admiration for Barrie's ability as York for the new fields. The party will be under the leadership of J. N. Calloway, instructor in the institute. The Germans will pay all expenses of the expedition and before publication.

With its November issue, the Century Magazine begins a year of romance, during which many of the most famous living writers of fiction will contribute to the magnizne short scorles, nove a or novelettes. The reception accorded "The Helmet of Na-varre," begun in the August number, indicates that the proposed separture will be a popular one, and, with such names as Rud-yard Kipling. Mrs. Burnett, Bret Harts, Lew Wallace, Weir Mitchell, Mrs. Wikins, Whiston Churchill, Howelis, James, Harris, Cabie, Stockion, Page, Ansiey and Ian Maclaren-to note but these few-the conductors of the Century are pretty sure to meet the tastes of all lovers of action.

The conspicuous success of novels by American writers within the last three years seems likely to be continued. The publishers of "David Harum" are about to besse an important novel which Hamim Garland has produced, "The Engle's Heart," and it is understood that they are scoring opecesses with Mr. E. Hough's brilliant story, "The Girl at the Hallway House," and with Doctor Barton's "Pine Knot" and Mr. Altsheler's romance of the Civil War, "In Circling Camps."

A new magazine, "The World's Work," is announced by Loubleday, Page & Co. of New York. It will be a first-hand magaof human progress.

The Macmillan Company announce a book by W. Carew Hazlitt on "The Rise, Growth and Fall of the Venetian Republic," in two volumes. The story of this Republic of the Middle Ager is of great interest to all stu-dents of man's progress in self-government.

ple, has just issued through Messrs. Houghton, Mifflin & Co. a story of the days of the Revolution, called "In the Hands of the Redcoats." It is a good story, told with all the author's known fidelity to the atmos-phere of the period of which he writes. "Fortune's Boats," a story for girls by Barbara Yechton, has been issued by the same publishers. This author's books are always in demand by girl readers, and they will not be disappointed in "Fortune's

Mrs. Arthur Kennard has written a novel which has to do with the life of an Ameri-can betress who married an English nobleman for ambition's sake, and who came to find, through all her devotion to smart soclety and the power of place, that he was a man worth loving. It is published by J. B. Lippincott Company

The new edition of Thomas Nelson Page's "The Old Gentleman of the Black Stock" is particularly attractive. It is bound in deli-cate green and trimmed in gold and ivory. The charm of the book lies in the colored illustrations, which are excellent. The story itself is already known to readers of this talented author. (Scribners.)

The Seribners have also issued Charles Warren's book of fetching ctories, "The Girl and the Governor," There is a mething of the attractiveness and freshness of youth and the healthy spirits of college life to be found in these stories, aside from their elever presentation of political affairs and their bearing upon the seriousness of

The volume is about to 'p-pear through the Lippincotts, with eight lustrations by John Sionne.

B. K. Bensen's first novel, "Who Goes which, as has before been stated, deals with the mental afflictions of mesia," will be published next week by The Macmillan Company.

"The Hosts of the Lord," Mrs. Flora Annie Steele's new novel, will be shortly pub lished by the Macmilian Company. The scene is kild in India, and in it tragedy, history and comedy are said to be entertain-ingly combined, thus making a book very different from "On the Pace of the Waters," which won this author her early reputa-

The November Atlantic is to bring forward Miss Jewett as a historical novelist, with the fortunes of the New England loyalists for her subject. Her story," The Tory Lover," will be continued through six num-bers, and when complete will partly fill the gap between the little group of Wentworth novels and poems and the modern fiction of Doctor Holmes and Mr. Aldrich.

Ellen Thornycroft Fowler, author of "The Farringdons" and "Isabel Carnaby," will shortly publish through D. Appleton & Co. a new volume of fiction entitled, "Cupid's Garden." The volume is said to be in a much lighter vein than any of her previous works. She shows herself, too, as the mis-tress of the art of story-telling, according to the French rather than the English school. Maarten Maartens has also a new book, which will be published by the same house. It is a collection of short stories, which are all intimately related to the title, "Some Women I Have Known,"

The Popular Science Monthly for November, which is the first number of Volume lvil, opens with one of a series of articles by Professor Simon Newcomb, entitled "Chapters on the Stars."

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 19.-The vote of the presbyteries on the question of the revision of the Confession of Faith, as thus far reported, is as follows: For revision only, 30; declaratory statement, 2; supplemental creed, 39; substitute creed, 19; diamiesal of the whole subject, 53; revision and supplemental creed, 10; total number of presbyteries voting, 110.

There are 212 presbyteries, including twenty-one in foreign lands, most of which will not vote in time for the report of the committee, and there are eighteen presbyteries which have only one meeting during the year, in the spring.

A report will be presented by the committee to the General Assembly, which meets in this city next May, with recommendations. The votes of two-thirds of the presbyteries will be necessary for assembly to send down any overtures on the subject.

The presbyteries voting for revision de sire, as a rule, modification of certain ex-pressions, such as "Elect infants dying in infancy," which they ask to have changed so as to read, "Infants dying in infancy are included in the election of grace." Ferguson, Thursday, Oct. M. 8 p. m. HONORABLE T. P. RIXEY,

John T. McCullough, a farmer, living near Selma, Tenn., was fleeced by three men yesterday morning. McCullough is reg-istered at the Illinois House. He came to St. Louis with $300, which he proposed to invest in a lucrative business. At the corner of Twelfth street and Wash-ington avenue he fell in with a stranger, who introduced himself as a Kentuckian.

ington avenue he fell in with a stranger, who introduced himself as a Kentuckian. When they reached the corner of Fifteenth street the Kentuckian proposed to set up the drinks, and they went into a saloon. A dice box was introduced. A third man came forward. A bet was made. The Kentuckian borrowed sile from McCullough to bet and lost. He borrowed $25 more. As he passed the money over the third man seized it and ran out of the saloon. McCullough started after him, when a man stepped up and finished a star.

"I am an officer and I place you under arrest. You have been gambling." Walle McCullough stood there dumfounded the other men made their excape. The "officer" told McCullough if he would take a train out of the city he would not report the case. McCullough arreed, but on the way to Union Station met a policeman, to whom he related his experience. Together they went back to investigate. They arrested the "officer," who proved to be Charles Scott. Chief Desmond took the came before Acting Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Braden and procured a warrant charging grand larceny against Scott. The police are after the other two men.
